

Appendix I - Sunday Readings

'IGNORANCE OF SCRIPTURES IS IGNORANCE OF CHRIST'

(St Jerome 347-419AD)

The Mass readings of the Catholic Church are arranged according to two cycles: one for the Sunday readings and one for the weekday readings. The Sunday readings run in a three year cycle (Year A, B and C) while the weekday readings have a two year cycle (Year I and Year II).

Both of these cycles are further divided according to their place in the liturgical year. The liturgical year begins with Advent and Christmastide. It continues with Ordinary Time before moving into Lent and Eastertide. At the end of Eastertide, Ordinary Time resumes; it concludes with the Feast of Christ the King. The new liturgical year then begins with Advent.¹

The following charts provide all the Sunday readings through the three year cycle. Each year is devoted to a different Gospel, Matthew, Mark or Luke. The Gospel of John appears throughout each of the three years, especially during Lent and Easter.

The Liturgical year begins with the season of Advent, a word that means coming, referring to the coming of Jesus of course. The first Sunday of Advent is four Sundays before Christmas day.

“Ordinary Time” begins the first Sunday after the three weeks of Christmas.

These years below for Lent and Easter are a year after the years given above for Advent because Advent occurs at the end of the year in December, although it is the same liturgical year. (The Liturgical year begins with the first Sunday of Advent.) Ordinary Time, Lent and Easter are after the Christmas season, which is the following year.
