

1. What kind of relationship between the federal and provincial levels of government does this cartoon depict? What might be the consequences of this relationship, according to the cartoon?

2. What are some current sources of strain between the two levels of government?

3. Which level of government, federal or provincial, do you think is more powerful in Canada today? Explain.

4. The third level of government, municipal government, is not even shown in this cartoon. What is its relationship to the other two? If it were added to the cartoon, how might it be shown?